1. Sign into the Zoom portal.
2. Schedule a Zoom meeting.
3. Create an anonymous Poll
 - From the meeting management page, scroll to the bottom to find the Poll.
 - Click Add to begin creating a poll.
 - A poll can be created and launched while the Zoom meeting is underway. For example,

- Select Multiple Choice.
- Enter the question stem and Yes/No as the possible answers.
- Create one poll per vote. Do not create a single poll for multiple votes
- Click Save. The poll will show in the list of polls for the Zoom meeting.

5. Launch the poll

- Start the schedule committee meeting (Zoom session).
- When it is time for the committee members to vote, click Polls at the bottom of the screen. A poll dialogue box will appear. If there is more than one poll, the dialogue screen will contain a dropdown box to select the appropriate poll.
- Remember that the Faculty Handbook specifies that proxy votes are not permitted, and that faculty members who serve on both the Departmental Committee and the Collegiate Committee should vote concerning a candidate on the Departmental level only, and must abstain from voting on the College Committee.

- Click Launch Polling.
- At this point, the poll will be visible to all participants in the Zoom session. Instruct committee members to select their vote and click Submit (see below) When a participant clicks Submit the screen will close and they will not be able to vote a second time.

- Poll results can also be viewed at the bottom of the meeting management page.

7. Reporting results

The Faculty Handbook requires that Promotion and Tenure Committees provide separate reports, even for the same candidate.

The Committee Report should include the final vote tally, including abstentions, for each candidate. Each Committee member must sign the report, which indicates their participation in the voting and the accuracy of the final tally. Reports may be signed electronically for remotely-conducted meetings. Chairs should ensure confidentiality of the proceedings and that reports are shared only with the Committee members and the appropriate Department Chair or Dean. Note that some Colleges may also require that
